

Grace & Peace Fellowship,
PCA
& ZekeFilm presents...

Special Guest:
Dr. Mark Eckel, ThM PhD
Author, Educator & Speaker

Every movie is psychological in nature because human nature is present in every movie.

A Christian perspective on our humanity is important.

The image we see on the screen reflects God's image in every person.

Biblical concerns for the worth, value, and dignity of each individual frames Christian thought about psychology.

Movies have used psychological vehicles to communicate a message.

But more than that, all movies are snapshots of the human mind.

Join Dr. Mark Eckel, author of When the Lights Go Down: Movie Review as Christian Practice, as he explores the human condition in movies.
